

DPWH Head Office

National Capital Region

“The client was satisfied with RGCA’s work, so he inquired another installation for other sites.”

Main office of DPWH was installed with different brands and was already old, so unit replacement was required one by one. The client requested to do unit replacement even on the newly acquired products due to poor installation done by other dealer.

We; RGCA reached out to the engineer who was searching for dealers that has good reputation when it comes to AC installation. The engineer asked us if Daikin provides good service since it is their number one requirement to consider purchasing a brand. We then explained that Daikin has dedicated group of service and also about our service capability that we can monitor their units by frequent maintenance and after service as long as the units are installed by RGCA.

We got the client's feedback that they were satisfied with our works, so we are receiving another inquiry installation for other sites.
